

Humpty Dumpty Investigation

During our Nursery Rhyme topic we had to solve the 'Humpty Dumpty Mystery'. On arrival to school, we found Humpty Dumpty broken in half. We were all shocked and quickly worked together to solve what happened to Humpty. We brainstormed who we thought might have pushed Humpty off the wall, some of us thought a wild animal had chased Humpty and Dumpty and he had fallen off the wall but others thought Mrs Marquis broke Humpty because she scared him. As a class we decided to question Mrs Marquis about what she was doing when she got to school. After asking our 'Who,

What, When, Where Questions' we decided Mrs Marquis hadn't harmed Humpty. So we set off to find more clues.

Returning to the classroom, we decided to take a closer look around for clues and after some careful looking, we found unusual footprints outside our backdoor. We weren't sure what kind of animal made them, but we decided to cautiously follow them. The footprints went into our playground. We were very surprised to see Mr Dragon, our cheeky puppet, sitting on the slide with a sad look on his face.

Mrs Lucas questioned Mr Dragon and he confessed to pushing Humpty Dumpty off the wall. He was very apologetic. We all went back and told Mrs Marquis what happened to poor Humpty. She was glad we found out the truth.
